Go further, Britain.

Manifesto 2026

OUR PLAN FOR BRITAIN

24 pledges. Five areas. Progress published in public.

Sample copy. A fictional party.

A short note first

We start from a simple idea. Most people want to build something: a business, a home, a better school, a quieter street. Government should be the thing that says yes, then gets out of the way.

This manifesto sets out 24 pledges across five areas. We publish progress on every one of them, in public, and we update the tracker on our website whenever something changes. If we miss a date, it says so.

Britain has plenty of people ready to try. Our job is to back them.

Amara Whitlock
Party Leader

Economy and work

Starting something should take a day, not a season.

- Start a company online in one working day
- Scrap 40 outdated licensing rules
- Cap business rates rises at 3% a year
- A hiring credit for first-time employers
- A £2bn national apprenticeship fund

Housing

Faster decisions, more homes, fewer tricks.

- Planning decisions in 8 weeks, everywhere
- Build 300,000 homes a year by 2030
- Stamp duty holiday for first-time buyers
- Rebuild 20 town centres for living and work
- End hidden letting fees

Health

Seeing someone quickly is the whole point.

- A GP appointment within 48 hours
- 100 community diagnostic hubs
- Free dental check-ups for under 18s
- Mental health support in every school

Transport and energy

Things that work, priced fairly.

- Fix one million potholes
- Contactless fares on every rail line
- Cut household energy bills by 15%
- Five new regional rail links
- Solar panels on every new school roof

Schools and skills

Every child fed, every adult able to learn.

- Free breakfast in every primary school
- Class sizes capped at 28
- A free digital skills course for every adult
- A tutoring guarantee for every Year 11
- Technical colleges in 20 more towns

How we will be judged. Every pledge is marked done, under way or not started on our website. Done means it is in force and people can use it. We will not mark something done early.